PRESS RELEASE

Fairbanks International Airport Police and Fire to Conduct Big Pour

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 12, 2013

(FAIRBANKS, Alaska) — The Fairbanks International Airport Police and Fire Department will conduct its annual "Big Pour" event at 11:00am on Sunday, August 25 at the Fairbanks International Airport General Aviation Airpark.

Over 30 gallons of alcohol will be poured out to symbolically signify that law enforcement agencies and community members will not tolerate illegal alcohol importation through the state's aviation system.

This event is open to the public.

For more information please contact Officer Fan Burge, Airport Police and Fire at 474-2538 or Angie Spear, Public Information, at 474-2529.

The Alaska International Airports System is comprised of the Fairbanks International Airport and the Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport.
